

2013 Billboard Music Awards Top 5 Moments

Written by Chelsea Lenora White Entertainment Writer
Wednesday, 22 May 2013 00:00

The 2013 Billboard Music Awards was glitzy, entertaining and larger than life, which was perfectly suitable considering that it was held in Las Vegas and hosted by comedian, Tracy Morgan. Although the show was packed with surprises and a lengthy list of celebrity names attending and performing, there were many memorable moments, and ones we wish we could forget.

There were far too many outrageous moments to cover them all, so here are my top five moments of the 2013 Billboard Music Awards:

Taylor Swift won eight of the eleven awards that she was nominated for, dominating the 2013 Billboard Music Awards. She also delivered an over the top performance which included Swift dancing backstage on a table, sporting a unicorn T-shirt which read “Haters Gonna Hate,” a background dancer climbing up a wall around her, Swift boarding a bicycle through the audience, Swift breaking it down with dance group Jabbawockeez, and a balloon shower for the entire audience.

2013 Billboard Music Awards Top 5 Moments

Written by Chelsea Lenora White Entertainment Writer
Wednesday, 22 May 2013 00:00

2013 Billboard Music Awards Top 5 Moments

Written by Chelsea Lenora White Entertainment Writer
Wednesday, 22 May 2013 00:00

