

Vivica Fox Joins the Cast of New Comedy Series

Written by Forward Times Staff
Saturday, 12 May 2012 13:48

Vivica Fox confirmed that the rumors are true. She's back to television in a new comedy, "Mr. Box Office." Official word is scheduled to come soon from Byron Allen's Entertainment Studios

Fox joins the cast of Allen's new production, along with Keisha Knight Pulliam (of The Cosby Show), Jon Lovitz, and ex-NBA Star Rick Fox, according to HumorMillMag.com.

Comedians Tony Roberts, Jeff Garcia and Alex Thomas also are on board with veteran actors Tim Meadows, Gary Busey and Clifton Davis.

The show is anticipating on being a huge hit as it currently has a tall order of 104 episodes to fulfill.

"Mr. Box Office" will premiere in the fall possibly on TBS or Byron Allen's Comedy TV ... or both, says Humor Mill.