Let me introduce to you to a German rock band I've been listening to...

Noah Sow blends art and activism in her work. She's the author of Deutschland Schwarz Weiss, (a book that touches upon Germany's modern race issues) and lead singer of the Hamburg based band Noiseaux.

They release their songs in both English and German, and if you're willing to give the German versions a try you'll find they're enjoyable in both languages.

Below is the music video to “Cessation” the first single off their debut album.
