

Oprah Goes in on Twitter Follower for Not Supporting the ‘Ghetto’ Tweet

Written by Forward Times Staff
Thursday, 02 August 2012 08:13

---

We don't think you want to mess with Oprah unless you've got all your facts right. And even then, it still might not be a good idea.

One of her Twitter followers, AWALK @awalkdataalk, found that out Sunday evening after tweeting this:

@Oprah when are u going 2 give back 2 the ghettos in america?

As we all know, Lady O is known for using part of her considerable fortune for causes she appreciates. One such is a school for girls she built and funds in South Africa. And of course she's constantly criticized for not doing enough for black folks here in the states. We presume that's what motivated the attack tweet above.

Well, Madame Winfrey was either pissed at Steadman or just not in the mood for any foolishness because she immediately came back with this retort:

@awalkdataalk where are u? I've put 500 African American men thru college . And u sir?

Oh, snap!

Oprah Goes in on Twitter Follower for Not Supporting the 'Ghetto' Tweet

Written by Forward Times Staff
Thursday, 02 August 2012 08:13

---

As the Huffington Post pointed out, it wasn't clear immediately as to which of her charitable activities in education Oprah was referring to, but she has donated a million dollars to several charter school networks across the country. She is also the largest individual donor to Morehouse College, the all-male institution that has long been of the nation's premier historically black colleges. The college said that she has donated more than id=mce_marker2 million since 1989.