

Usher's Stepson (Kyle Glover) Declared Brain Dead

Written by Forward Times Staff
Thursday, 12 July 2012 19:51

---

There's horrible and sad news to report on Usher's stepson, Kyle (aka: Kile) Glover.

11-year-old Kyle has been declared brain dead by doctors following an accident yesterday when he was struck by a jet ski, TMZ is reporting.

According to our sources, Kyle Glover (son of Usher's estranged wife Tameka Foster) has not experienced any brain activity since he was admitted to the hospital. We're told there has been no decision yet as to whether or not to take him off life support.

Our sources say Usher arrived at the hospital last night and Tameka has not left the hospital since she got there.

As we reported earlier, young Glover was struck in the head by a passing jet ski while riding on an inner tube on Lake Lanier in Atlanta, GA.